

NEED YOUR HOME DESIGN!

Working with EDHB to conceive your new home and execute the plans for building it can be very exciting. The greatest reward may be the pleasure of knowing that the design is a functional work of art created especially for you. While designing your new home, EDHB will certainly consider your functional and aesthetic needs. But we will also take into consideration things such as the land form and orientation of your lot, wind patterns, surrounding vegetation, angles of the sun in the winter and summer, and - of course - your budget. The design process is a very personal matter and the chemistry between EDHB and the client is most important

Every firm provides different services, and every firm may well charge different fees for similar work. It is important to know exactly what you are going to get for what you are going to pay, tell us about your project that we may give you a quote for Design fees.
